

Paper Beads

What you need
Paper Magazine or coloured paper
Scissors
Glue
Scewer or nitting needle
Fishing line or other string

Cut strips out of the magazine or the coloured paper. You can easily cut several pages together. One side of the strip is narrower than the other side.

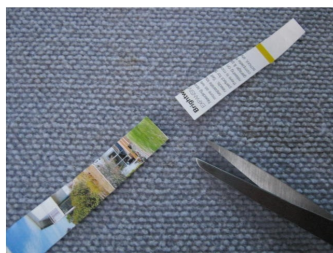

Put some glue onto the strip and roll it over a the scewer or nitting needle.

If there is not enough glue at the end add a little glue. If there is too much clean it off with a rag.

String the beads onto a fishing line. Tie the fishing line and push the ends through one or two beads and then cut it off. It will look tidier.

The wider side is the width of the bead. Because you can see the narrow side when the bead is finished you have to decide what colour you want the bead to be and cut off access paper.

You can use cut up drinking straws as beads as well.
